

THE SKINNY RELEASE NEW SINGLE '02:45'

Perth/Boorloo alternative rock band The Skinny release their new single 02:45 on Friday, September 04.

Built around driving guitars, a restless rhythm section and a hook that gets straight to the point, 02:45 is the latest release from The Skinny — a four-piece drawing on the rawer end of alternative and indie rock.

02:45 captures that particular point late in the night when good decisions have largely gone out the window. It's a song about attraction, impulse and two people heading off into the early hours together. More importantly, it's about breaking free of a stagnant relationship and moving on with your life.

Recorded with Dan Carroll at Rada Studios in Fremantle, the single marks the beginning of a new run of music from The Skinny, with more recording and live shows planned.

The band will celebrate the release with a single launch on Friday, September 11 at The Fremantle Buffalo Club, joined by Sascha Ion and the Elements, Goodbye Forever and A Wolf Like Me.

02:45 will be available on all major streaming platforms from September 04, 2026.
